Top Dog Picks from Around the Bay | August 05, 2009

WoofReport's still feeling the buzz from our first annual Canines & Wines event last Sunday in Napa Valley. It was a wonderful day of pups, wine and mingling. Best of all, much needed funds were raised for the Napa Humane Society. What a day!

Best in Show Autumn

Thanks to everyone who joined us there, especially our favorite local companies whose products we love as much as the people behind them. We thought it was only right to share them with you. Thanks to the Internet, there's no need to plan a trip to Northern California (though we still highly recommend it), you can find all of these goodies online anytime.

Bark Stix, Point Richmond

These all-natural treats are as pure as it gets. Each delicious bite delivers absolutely zero soy, eggs, sugars, chemicals or colorings of any kind. From breadstick-shaped BarkStix to Fart Busters all-meat chicken treats made with a proprietary blend of digestive enzymes and more, try them all to find your dog's favorites. Recommended by Whole Dog Journal, the award winning Bark Stix donate 5 % of profits to Greyhound Rescue and Adoption groups.

Spot Pet Treats, Mill Valley

No dog can turn down a SPOT Charcuterie* Pet Treat. They're so delicious, pets won't even know that the Banana & Peanut Butter flavor are made from 100% all-natural grain-free organic ingredients. Nor would they guess that the four meat flavors are made from livestock humanely raised on sustainable American farms, specially baked, then dehydrated for a perfect texture. Great for pets with grain allergies or raw-only diets, these bite-size goodies make snacking or training a snap.

Scutte, San Francisco

Hip, stylish and eco-friendly, Scutte was created to fill a void in the pet apparel market for sustainable, classic pet clothing that reflects urban sensibility and style. Woof Report digs the fact that a portion of proceeds from all sales are donated to support Muttville's efforts to rescue senior dogs, and of course – their one-of-a-kind dog t-shirts made from vintage t-shirts and in 7 sizes, from xxs to xxl.
